Nineteen Seventy-five Agape

Volume II: Montreat-Anderson College/Montreat, N.C.

We Are All Travelers in the Wilderness of This World and the Best That We Find in Our Travels Is an Honest Friend.

— BENJAMIN FRANKLIN

Life Is Nothing Without Friendship.

Cicero

There Are No Strangers Here,

Only Friends We Haven't Met.

We speak of choosing, of making, friends.
What we can choose and what we can make is not a friend but opportunity for contact. When the contact happens something higher than ours
will choose for us.
William Gannett.

You Can't Fake Friendship

Devins Jay

Greater Love Hath No Man Than This,
That a Man May Lay Down His Life for a Friend.

EDFRANC

Friendship Consists in Forgetting What One Gives,

and Remembering
What One Receives.

Halloween Night at M.A.C.

There Is No Such Thing as an Average Person. Each One of Us Is a Unique Individual. Weston

Momentary Incidents, Never to Be Relived . . .
the Good Times, the Bad Times
Happy Youth Times
All Occurring Only Once
Now, Recorded for Cherishment
. . . in a Mere Patchwork of Recollecting.

As I Have No Answer of Tomorrow,

I Should Live Each Today Fully.

Be Cheerful. Of All the Things You Wear Your Expression Is the Most Important.

Days Become Memories People, Places, and Happenings Fade Into the Dream of Yesterday and,

as the Pages of Your Mind Turn Backward
You Are Able to See.

We'd Remember the Great One for We Were Born and Our Way
Those Wonderful Days of

Those Were the Days, My Friend . . .

We Thought They'd Never End . . .

We'd Sing and Dance Forever and a Day ...

We'd Live the Life We Choose . . .

We'd Fight and Never Lose . . .

For We Were Young and Sure to Have Our Way . . .

Those Were the Days, Oh Yes, Those Were the Days.

Starry eyed
we step out into a cold world where security reigns no longer
and we miss for the warm fires
of innocence which no longer are ours.
